

Walden's Puddle is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing care and treatment to injured and orphaned wild animals as well as educating our communities about the importance of wildlife and the vital role it plays in our environment.

Whether it is the helpless orphan squirrel or the fierce Great Horned Owl with the broken wing, Walden's Puddle strives to Raise and Release; Rehabilitate and Return.

Through continuing educational outreach, Walden's Puddle is providing students and our communities a greater appreciation of wildlife. In 2005, our educational programs were experienced by over 5,000 people. Our programs allow up close encounters with our animal ambassadors while providing factual information about wildlife. Educational outreach is making a difference and your support will allow us to fulfill our objectives and reach our goals.
